

MINE GUARDS AND STRIKERS ENGAGE IN PITCHED BATTLE

One Guard Shot Through Leg and Two Horses Are Shot from Under Men

COMMUNICATION CUT OFF

All Telephone Communication With Camp Is Cut Off Soon After Fight Commences

STRIKERS FIRE ON AUTOMOBILE

LUDLOW, Colo., Oct. 7.—Beginning at 3:30 this afternoon, a battle was waged between striking coal miners and mine guards at the strikers' tent colony here, in which one guard was shot through the leg, two strikers wounded, two horses killed from under mine guards, and many houses riddled with bullets.

The fight came to an end two hours later, a few minutes before the arrival here of Sheriff Grisham at the head of five under sheriffs and twenty-two members of the state militia deputized as sheriffs.

Strikers fire on automobile. The shooting started when the chief electrician and the superintendent of the Victor mine reached the tent colony in an automobile bound for Hastings. As the machine entered the zone controlled by the miners, the miners fired.

The party turned back and obtained an escort of six armed guards. Again as the car reached the tent colony shots were fired, this time from rifles. The firing continued until about 5:20 p. m., when the mine guards returned to the Victor property carrying their wounded companion.

When the battle was at its height on request of mine officials, telephoning to Trinidad, Sheriff Grisham swore in deputies and Captain Foreman of the Trinidad company was instructed by Governor Ammons to permit any of the militia to go with the sheriff as deputies. The strikers' camp was peaceful when the sheriff arrived. National guardsmen are patrolling the colony here tonight as deputy sheriffs.

Rush Militia to Scene. Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 7.—The local company of the Colorado National guard under command of Captain E. J. Foreman, was rushed to Ludlow, a coal mining camp a few miles north of here late today to quell a battle reported to be raging between mine guards and a force of striking coal miners. Posses of officers and armed citizens have been sent to Ludlow from surrounding towns. The National guardsmen were conveyed on a special train. Ludlow is the site of a large tent colony maintained by the United Mine Workers of America.

Telephone reports here state that the Colorado and Southern railway station at Ludlow had been peppered with bullets and that several horses have been killed. Reports that a number of men are dead and wounded are without confirmation. All telephone communication with the camp was cut off soon after the fight started.

STRIKERS START THE FIGHT.

According to the best information available, a party of strikers fired on an automobile carrying Walter Belk, chief of the Baldwin Peltz guards, Detective G. W. Balcher, B. W. Larson, a hotel proprietor, and three others as the car was passing through Ludlow. The detectives are said to have returned the fire, then retreating to Hastings and returned with eleven mine guards as reinforcements. As soon as the guards reached Ludlow the battle opened. The strikers, from behind a steel railroad bridge poured a hot fire into the ranks of the officers. Detective Belk raced in the automobile to Trinidad to summon aid. He stated that when he left the scene of the battle the mine guards were holding their own against the strikers.

Later a horseman, who left Ludlow a few minutes before Belk reported that many windows in the town had been shattered by rifle bullets.

Battle at LaFayette. LaFayette, Colo., Oct. 7.—Buildings in the property of the Standard mine near here tonight were targets for three volleys of rifle bullets delivered by men who drove rapidly by the company camp in vehicles. Their fire was returned by mine guards, but so far as could be learned tonight no one was injured.

FARMER LOST $15,800.

Atlantic, Iowa, Oct. 7.—F. M. Joslin, a retired farmer of Frederick, S. D., complained to the authorities today of the loss of $15,800, which he said he left under his pillow at an Atlantic hotel, where he slept last night. He did not discover his loss until he reached the railroad station. The amount was in cash and negotiable paper. Two or three arrests were made, but without results.

HOUSE SESSION ARENA FOR BASEBALL RETURNS

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES UNABLE TO TRANSACT ANY BUSINESS

Minority Leader Mann Makes Point of no Quorum When Deficiency Bill Is Reported From the Senate and Prevents the Reference to Conference of the Measure.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Declaring the Democrats of the house had slumped woefully in their legislative batting average and in their interest in the administration game since they passed the currency bill up to the senate, Minority Leader Mann today prevented the reference to conference of the urgent deficiency bill and turned the session of the house into an arena for world's series baseball returns.

When the deficiency bill was reported from the senate, the minority leader made a point of no quorum. Account showed that they were several short of a quorum and the sergeant-at-arms was ordered to send for the absentees. Speaker Pro Tem Sherry signing warrants for their arrest. At the end of three hours but six absentees had reported. Two o'clock drew nigh with a quorum still lacking and the minority leader rising to "make a parliamentary inquiry."

"The hour of 2 o'clock having arrived I wish to ask if the chair has made arrangements to inform the house of the progress of the ball game in New York?"

"That is not a parliamentary inquiry," the chair replied, while everybody on the floor cheered.

Several vain attempts were made to adjourn, the Democrats refusing to second the motions. Meantime the ball game had been in progress for several innings and some one sent the first returns to Mr. Mann.

"A parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Chairman," said the minority leader rising in his place.

"State it," said the speaker.

"Would it be proper to announce that the score now is 4 to 1 in favor of Philadelphia in the fourth inning?"

"Out of order," said the chair, as a messenger ran up to the minority leader with another bulletin.

"That being out of order," said Mr. Mann, arising to another parliamentary inquiry, "I would ask if it would be in order to announce that Baker of Philadelphia just knocked a home run and that the score is now 5 to 1 in favor of the Athletics?"

"That is not a parliamentary inquiry," announced the chairman. And so it went until the sixth inning when Mr. Mann announced the score without addressing the chair and adjournment was taken.

POLICE BELIEVE NEGRO ROBBED

AND KILLED MISS IDA LEEGSON

Find Murdered Woman's Gold Watch In Pawnshop In Negro District— Have Full Description of Man Who Pawned Timepiece.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Miss Ida Leegson, art student, whose body was found on a prairie west of here Sunday was killed while resisting the attack of a negro who robbed her after turning her to the outskirts of the city with promise of employment, according to the belief of the police tonight. A gold watch with the initials I. G. M., which belonged to Miss Leegson was recovered from a pawnshop in the negro district here this afternoon. The police were given a full description of the negro who pawned the watch, and according to Detective Captain Halpin, expect to arrest him soon.

The police sought to trace a telephone call received this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. James P. Burnette, with whom Miss Leegson formerly lived and who answered the phone Saturday when the call which lured Miss Leegson to her death was received.

Mrs. Burnette's husband answered the telephone today and when a man inquired for his wife, asked who was speaking.

"This is the man who called her up Saturday and I wanted to see if she could recognize my voice," was the reply.

Burnette meantime had whispered to his wife and she held the receiver to her ear but the person calling disconnected.

BEACHEY'S AEROPLANE KILLS RUTH HILDRETH

GIRL'S SISTER IS ALSO STRUCK AND PERHAPS FATALITY INJURED

Aviator Loses Control of Machine Which Sweeps Number of Spectators From a Roof—Beachey Sprains Arm and Ankle.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Miss Ruth Hildreth, daughter of W. E. Hildreth of New York City, was killed and her sister, Dorothy Hildreth, was perhaps fatally injured this afternoon in Hammondsport, when Lincoln Beachey lost control of a 100-horse power aeroplane and it swept a number of spectators off of a roof from which they were watching the exhibition. Ruth Hildreth fell upon an automobile. Her skull was fractured. Among those slightly hurt were Lieutenants Richardson and Bellinger of the United States navy aviation corps and Beachey.

Misses Hildreth and the navy officers had climbed to the top of a small building used as headquarters by naval aviators to see Beachey maneuvering. Beachey recognized the party and passing them dipped his machine in salute. They waved. The aeroplane went to the end of the field, turned and came back. When it was over the heads of the Hildreth party the machine was seen to dip. The aeroplane came so close to the party as to sweep all to the ground. The aeroplane careened wildly and plunged to the earth, unseating the aviator and wrecking the machine.

Ruth Hildreth was unconscious when spectators reached her and blood was gushing from a gaping wound in her head. Her sister also was unconscious but Lieutenants Bellinger and Richardson were able to rise. Dorothy Hildreth sustained a broken arm and leg and may have internal injuries. Her condition is said to be critical. Lieutenants Bellinger and Richardson escaped with cuts and bruises that are not serious. Beachey sprained an arm and ankle.

Beachey said that as he reached a point directly over the naval building he momentarily lost control of his machine because his foot slipped from one of the controls.

SPRAINED ANKLE MAY KEEP MERKLE OUT OF REST OF SERIES

Giants' First Baseman Injured Ankle in Mix-up on First Base— Physician Recommends Several Days' Rest.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Manager McGraw declared that he was not discouraged by today's defeat and that the Athletics "were lucky to win." McGraw said that if the weather is clear he would use Mathewson tomorrow.

There is serious doubt in the Giants' camp, whether Fred Merkle, the Giants' first baseman, will be able to take his place on initial sack in tomorrow's game. Merkle sprained his ankle in mix-up at first base today. A physician who examined the ankle here, recommended that the player rest for several days before attempting to re-enter the game. The strained tendon in Snodgrass' leg has apparently put him out of the series and McGraw may have to use one of his pitchers or substitute infielders on first base. Witte, Crandall, Grant or Wilson are the quartet from which Merkle's substitute would be selected, although none of these players are the equal of Merkle's regular first sacker and their presence at first would weaken the entire New York infield.

Connie Mack tonight refused to make any statement other than to say that "everything went nicely." While Mack has not made the announcement, it is believed by fans that Plank will be in the box for Philadelphia tomorrow. A drizzling rain is falling tonight.

WORK OF REPAIR AND HELPING NEEDY UNDERWAY AT NOME

Sun Shines Down on Hundreds of Destitute and Many Blocks of Wrecked Buildings.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 7.—The storm spent itself, fires ceased to threaten and an unclouded sun shone down today on the hundreds of destitute and on the blocks of wrecked structures of the city of Nome. Though the waves are still high and the wind tonight is blowing about thirty miles an hour, fears of further destruction from fire or storm are over and the work of repair and of helping the needy is underway. Between the stand-split on the ocean front and the Standard Oil plant, a distance of about two miles, not one structure remains standing on the south side of the street.

HUMPHRIES RELEASES

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 7.—Superior Judge John E. Humphries issued an order late today releasing the thirty-one men and six women Socialists confined in the county jail for "talking back" to him when they were arraigned for contempt of court. Judge Humphries thus forestalled Governor Lister, who was on the way to Seattle to devise means of releasing the prisoners and to confer with six King county judges relative to removing Judge Humphries.

LEADERS CONFER WITH PRESIDENT

Wilson Would Hasten Consideration of Administration Currency Measure

CONFERENCE AT WHITE HOUSE

Measures Are to Be Taken to Get Senate Democrats Behind the Currency Bill as a Party Measure

FWOLVER VIGOROUSLY ATTACKS BILL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The administration currency bill and President Wilson's announced determination to write it into law before December 1, today became the storm center of legislative activity. A series of conferences at the white house, prompted by the desire of the president to hasten consideration of the measure made apparent a rather doubtful situation surrounding the bill in the senate and resulted in a general stir among senate Democrats. President Pro-Tem Clarke of the senate, Majority Leader Kern, Democratic Whip Lewis, Chairman Owen of the banking and currency committee and Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, were called to the white house to discuss the situation. After the conferences it became apparent that measures were to be taken to get the Democrats of the senate behind the currency bill as a party measure. The white house took the attitude that the determination of the senate bankers and currency committee to conclude its hearings "on or before October" showed that the Republicans of the committee with the aid of two or three Democrats opposed to the bill were controlling the situation and that the Democratic majority should at once take steps to demonstrate its responsibility for legislation. The senators who conferred with the president all took the position that Democrats were responsible for currency legislation. They should take the matter into their hands. It was indicated that one method which might be pursued was to withdraw the bill from the consideration of the full committee where it is now tied up and turn it over to the committee Democrats as was done in the house. By this method if the committee Democrats were unable to agree on the bill it could be taken direct to the Democratic caucus, although senate leaders were doubtful as to the outcome of a currency caucus under present conditions. It would, however, be a choice between submitting the bill to the full committee of Republicans and Democrats or taking it into caucus. Majority Leader Kern said today that if it became apparent that the bill was being delayed, the Democrats in order to assume their responsibility for legislation would call a caucus. Senator Owen also took the position that the measure should be made a party matter. The day's developments showed no change in the attitude of Senators Reed and Hitchcock, the Democratic members of the committee who have contended for full consideration and opportunity to amend the bill. Senator O'Gorman, who has taken a similar position, did not attend today's hearings. The committee today heard Charles N. Fowler, former member of the house and former chairman of the banking and currency committee. He attacked the bill declaring it would create a currency which was "not adapted to the needs of the country" and if passed would result in "commercial seclusion and financial ruin."

He characterized the present Aldrich-Vreeland emergency currency law as an inquiry.

"That measure," he said, "was jammed through congress by former President Roosevelt, under the same damnable pretense that is being used by President Wilson to force this bill through congress—pass the bill or plead incompetence."

Mr. Fowler advocated the establishment of a system of pure bank notes as currency as the worst needed. He recommended that the present $750,000,000 of bank notes remain in circulation, but that two per cent bank notes securing them be retired and the notes become "credit currency" issued by the banks. On the currency he said, a five per cent tax would form a guarantee fund which would be held against notes which might fail. Against the notes, he said, the banks should be required to hold a reserve equal to their reserve against deposits. He recommended the holding of a gold reserve of a billion and a quarter dollars by the government to enable the government to control the gold supply of the country.

$30,408,000 DEPOSITED.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The treasury department has deposited in the national banks $30,408,000 of the proposed $50,000,000 of government moving funds. About $19,500,000 more will be put out during the next few weeks. The deposits so far have been distributed among twenty-five states and the District of Columbia. The amount deposited in Illinois is $4,000,000; Indiana, $475,000; Minnesota, $500,000; Missouri, $1,125,000.

SPENCER TO BE TAKEN TO DU PAGE COUNTY

WILL BE SENT TO WHEATON TO STAND TRIAL FOR REXROAT MURDER

Although Detectives Are Still Investigating the Prisoner's Confession the Chicago Police Do Not Believe They Could Convict Him of Murder in Cook County.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Henry Spencer whose confession that he killed a score of persons is now believed to be a fantasy of a drug crazed mind, will be taken to DuPage county, Illinois, to stand trial for the murder of Mrs. Mildred Allison-Rexroat. He probably will not be held here more than a couple of days according to the police tonight. Although a score of detectives are still investigating the confession of Spencer and have substantiated many of the minor crimes he said he had committed the police do not believe they could convict him of a murder in Cook county and will send him to Wheaton, Ill., for trial.

Spencer has been indicted at Wheaton, charged with the murder of Mrs. Rexroat.

Was Thrice Years Ago. Sheboygan, Wis., Oct. 7.—Henry Spencer the confessed slayer of Mrs. Rexroat in Chicago, robbed E. G. Butters of Waldo of $85 and was sentenced October 28th, 1895 to six months in the county jail here under the name of Henry Smith, according to police authorities here today.

At that time he was a young boy and was taken out of the rescue mission in Chicago by a sister of Mrs. Butters and given a home near Waldo.

Wheaton, Ill., Oct. 7.—At a meeting of the board of supervisors of DuPage county today it was agreed that the trial of Henry Spencer for the murder of Mildred Allison-Rexroat should be expedited by every means in the power of the board. Spencer was indicted here yesterday and probably will be brought from Chicago next Friday.

A partial confirmation of part of Spencer's confession was obtained tonight according to Chief of Detectives Halpin when a hammer was found hidden in the cupola of a hotel at Fox Lake, Ill., where Spencer said he had hidden it after killing a man and a woman this spring. The hammer was found by Constable John J. Walsh.

SULZER ATTEMPTED TO HAVE MURPHY "CALL OFF" TRIAL

Ryan Testifies That Governor "Was Willing to Go Whatever Way Bargain."

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Governor William Sulzer recently attempted to negotiate a bargain with Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, to have his impeachment trial "called off"—so Allan A. Ryan, son of the New York financier and traction magnate, testified at the trial today. If Murphy was willing to get his "following" had no right to impeach him," the governor, according to Ryan, "was willing to do whatever was right."

The testimony preceded the calling by the defense of Louis A. Sarecky, the governor's campaign secretary, and other witnesses. Sarecky, a youth of 27, shouldered the blame for the omission of the unreported contributions from the governor's campaign statement confessed he had imitated the governor's signature to deceive a bank and admitted that he, an alien born in Russia and never naturalized, had been promoted to the position of governor's stenographer to the head of the deportation bureau of the state hospital commission.

BOY BANDIT INSANE.

Joliet, Illinois, October 7.—Frank Holland, known as the boy bandit, was declared to have become hopelessly insane tonight after he had vainly attempted to commit suicide by hanging in his cell and then by setting fire to the Joliet county jail here. It was necessary to summon help from the penitentiary to put him in a straight jacket. Holland terrorized Joliet in 1909 and later served a sentence at the Pontiac reformatory.

MUST SEND PUPILS TO SCHOOL

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 7.—Parents of school children out on a sympathy strike, were notified by truant officers and the sheriff today that arrests under the compulsory school law would be made unless the children returned to school tomorrow.

WEATHER INDICATIONS AND TEMPERATURES

NEGROES ATTACK JAIL AND FREE NEGRESS

LIBERATE GIRL AND ALMOST CAUSE RIOT IN VILLAGE OF ROMEO

In the Fight One Negro, the Leader of the Mob, Is Killed By the Village Trustee and the Jail a Wooden Building Is Entirely Demolished.

JOLIET, Oct. 7.—Fifty negroes and almost as many white people almost caused a riot in the village of Romeo near here, this afternoon, when the negroes attacked the jail and liberated Lulu Gibson, a negress who had been arrested for drunkenness. In the fight one negro was killed and the jail, a wooden structure was demolished.

The woman found on the railroad tracks, had been removed to the jail, when James Winfield after calling out all the negro citizens, led an assault against a defense of the jail by James Hansen, the village trustee. The negroes had succeeded in liberating the woman when Hansen opened fire. Winfield was killed. The disturbers then dispersed, after calls had been sent to Joliet for help to suppress a race riot.

The jail was hastily rebuilt and with the woman prisoner in it was kept under a special guard.

CONDEMNNS ATTEMPT TO SECURE NATIONAL PROHIBITION LAW

National German-American Alliance Adopts Resolution Condemning Movement.

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—The National German-American Alliance at its convention here today adopted a resolution condemning the attempt to secure the enactment of a national prohibition law.

The resolution "denounces as utterly unworthy the proud title American citizen those who attempting to coerce the members of the senate and house of representatives into lending their sanction to any scheme of pseudo-religious bigots and zealots to control the personal actions of law-abiding citizens. The resolution continues:

"We respectfully petition the members of congress to consider no proposed legislation tending to curtail personal rights and especially to refrain from adopting any national prohibition measure, being warned by the increasing use of strong, adulterated and inferior liquors and deadly drugs with the adoption of so-called prohibition statutes by several states."

ONE KILLED AND TWO INJURED WHEN AUTOMOBILE OVERTURNS

Party Is Enroute to Attend Veiled Prophecy Ball in St. Louis When Accident Occurs.

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—One man was killed and a man and a woman were injured when an automobile in which they were riding overturned while coming down the bluffs at Collinsville, near here tonight.

The dead, Clarence Wylie of Irving, Ill. The injured:

Mr. and Mrs. Yates Ingram of Mulberry Grove, Ill.

The party were enroute to St. Louis to attend the Veiled Prophecy Ball.

WANT THREE BATTLESHIPS

Washington, Oct. 7.—Three battleships and a proportionate of submarines and torpedo boat destroyers is the aim of the Wilson administration in shaping its navy policy for the December session of congress. It became known today that in all probability Secretary Daniels of the navy department would put into effect his principle of "less money ashore and more afloat" and advocate using the greater part of an appropriation of $148,000,000 to build three powerful warships—one more than the usual annual quota, though only a single battleship was obtained after a stormy fight in the last congress.

ISSUES APPEAL FOR HELP.

Noma, Alaska, Oct. 7.—George A. Jones, mayor of Noma, has issued the following appeal, through "The Associated Press."

"A tidal storm has destroyed one half of Noma. The damage is estimated at one million dollars. Five hundred people are homeless most of them destitute. Winter is approaching and public assistance is absolutely necessary.

"Funds should be sent to the city treasurer of Noma."

TUESDAY IN CONGRESS.

Hatch-Hetchy water bill was up for final disposition.
Senator Hoke Smith gave notice he would press his bill for a federal system of agricultural extension work.
Adjourned at 3:36 p. m. to noon Thursday.

House.
Met at noon.
Democratic leaders were confronted with the problem of holding a quorum during consideration of the deficiency bill.
Adjourned at 3:39 p. m. to noon Wednesday.

PROGRESSIVES TO MEET TODAY AT FAIR

Conference Will Mark Opening of Three Day's Political Round-Up

FORDHAM FOR CHAIRMAN

Committee Will Take Up Election In Fifth Judicial District to Fill the Vacancy on Supreme Bench

SHERMAN ADDRESSES POSTMASTERS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 7.—A meeting tomorrow morning of the state central committee of the Progressive party at which a state chairman will be chosen, will mark the first day of a three days' political round-up in connection with the state fair. The progressives meet tomorrow, the Democrats on Thursday and the Republicans on Friday and politicians of all denominations are arriving in the city to attend the rally of their respective party.

According to the best information obtainable H. L. Fordham of Dixon, Lee county, at present a member of the state committee, has the best chance of being elected chairman to fill the place to which John F. Bass of Chicago was elected some time ago and to which he failed to qualify.

To Aid Shay's Campaign. Another matter to be taken up by the Progressive state committee will be the election in the fifth judicial district to fill the vacancy on the supreme bench, caused by the resignation of Justice John P. Hand of Cambridge. Arthur Shay of Streator is the Progressive candidate and it is the plan of the party managers to send a number of speakers into the district and give Shay's campaign a whirlwind finish. The fact that Roosevelt carried all ten counties in the district gives the Progressives encouragement of success.

Governor Dunne today received a telegram from United States Senator Lewis stating he could not be here on Thursday, "Democratic Day."

Senator Sherman, who is now in Springfield, may also have to go back to Washington before the Republican rally on Friday. He received a telegram tonight from the sergeant-at-arms of the senate telling him to come back.

Sherman Speaks to Postmasters.

United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman and Congressman Henry T. Rainey addressed the annual convention of Postmasters today. The meeting was called to order by Postmaster Dan Campbell of Chicago. The convention will end tomorrow with an address by Governor Dunne.

Dr. Edward H. Ochner of Chicago was today appointed by Governor Dunne as a member of the state charities commission, to succeed Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago, term expired.

DIGS UP BLOODY CLOTHES.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 7.—Burr LaFond, the young negro arrested two days ago in San Diego led a party of policemen tonight to a verification of his confession that he had murdered Mrs. Rebecca P. Gay, the Christian Science practitioner, found dead in her room in a downtown office building, Sept. 26. In an old garbage dump the negro dug up the bloody clothing which he had worn on the day of the crime.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

JOLIET, Mo., Oct. 7.—Joplin today adopted a charter providing for the commission form of government.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 7.—Miss George Hoole, a well known woman of this city, was struck and killed tonight by an automobile driven by Jephtha Jones, who was returning from the state fair grounds with a number of passengers.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 7.—By a vote of nearly two to one the village of Riverton, east of Springfield, today elected the "law and order" or anti-saloon ticket of trustees. More women than men voted in a total of 300 votes.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 7.—The Illinois Dairy Cattle Improvement association today elected A. O. Auten, Chicago, president; J. P. Masou, Joliet, vice-president; C. F. Mills, Springfield, secretary; J. E. K. Herrick, Springfield, treasurer.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 7.—The torpedo boat destroyer Ammen is said to have collided with a submerged wreck near Delaware breakwater and is returning tonight to Philadelphia, towed by the torpedo boat Monahan. Two of the Ammen's propellers are reported disabled.

PANAMA, Oct. 7.—Charges of dynamite were placed in almost 100 holes which had been drilled in the Gamboa dike today preparatory to its destruction. Each hole contains from 80 to 100 pounds of dynamite, making in the aggregate the largest blast ever shot off.

TOLD THANK OFFERING MEETING.
Ladies of Congregational Church Foreign Missionary Society Spend Profitable Afternoon.

At the thank offering of the Foreign Missionary society of the Congregational church held at the church Tuesday afternoon the ladies introduced a novel way of presenting the conditions of the different classes in China and Japan. A number of the ladies were dressed representing the various castes in China and Japan and gave short talks illustrating the conditions of the people. The idea was to interest the members of the work and to present the conditions as they really are so that they could see what could be done to relieve conditions.

The thank offering was unusually large in conclusive evidence of the fact that the work of the ladies was most successful. The impersonators were Mrs. L. S. Doane, Mrs. Truman Carter, Miss Georgia Fairbank, Miss Capps, Miss Caroline Doane and Miss Ruth Bailey. A number of responsive readings and music added to the enjoyment of the afternoon after which a social hour was spent and refreshments were served. The rooms at the church were very prettily decorated with Chinese and Japanese flowers and religious emblems. Autumn leaves and flowers were also used in profusion.

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines.
If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia, use cough medicines that contain codeine, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative. For sale by all dealers. (adv)

CAR SKIDDED IN MUD.
As W. D. Hitt of Merritt was driving into Jacksonville Tuesday, on the Mound road, in his Ford car, he struck a muddy place which caused his car to skid. Almost before he realized that he had left the traveled path the front wheels were square against an embankment and in making the sharp turn one axle was sprung. A car was sent out from Jacksonville and Mr. Hitt's auto was towed in to a garage for repairs.

A Marvelous Escape.
"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. P. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers. (adv)

SEEKS ARREST OF MRS. LONG.
A warrant was issued Tuesday for the arrest of Mrs. Josephine Long, on complaint of her husband, Joe Long, proprietor of the Chinese laundry on North East street. The husband alleges that his wife had threatened him and wishes to have her put under a peace bond.

Notice of the Return of Our Weekly Bargain Sales

It has been some time since we announced a "Bargain Friday" Sale, but there has been such an insistent demand upon the part of our customers for their return that we have decided to again inaugurate these weekly specials. Next Friday will mark their introduction, only this season we are going to make them more attractive than heretofore by making

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Miss Margaret Champlin entertained informally a few girl friends at her home, 839 West North street, Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Anna Brown, who will soon leave for Washington, where she will attend school the coming winter. Luncheon was served, the table being decorated with red carnations, and in the center a large bunch of salvia. The place cards were hand painted with salvia designs. The occasion was delightful in every way.

A number of friends of Miss Ethel Hedrick of East North street gave her a surprise party Tuesday evening which was greatly enjoyed by all present. Refreshments were served and a number of games were played.

Among those present were Misses Marie Groves, Mae Sellers, Anna Hagerty, Mollie Doolin, Florence Hagerty, Mary Murphy, Ruth Hedrick, Minnie Kruse, Katherine Steinmetz, Della Sweeney, Hazel Rustemeyer, Frances DeMott, Virgil Flynn, Margaret Phalen, Marie Tuttle, Ethel Hedrick and Messrs. ### AN ANECDOTE OF M'KINLEY.

His Gentle Rebuke to a Department Chief's Subordinate.

President McKinley's scrupulous loyalty to his cabinet officers is spoken of as one of his characteristics. It is said that he never went over the heads of his secretaries to consult an assistant, but held each to responsibility for his department.

Of all the events of his administration probably none was a source of more anxiety to him than the decision of the supreme court on the status of the colonies. It was a matter of great moment whether the highest judicial body should uphold the view of the administration that the constitution sanctioned the possession of colonies which were not granted full representation. There were conflicting rumors and forecasts of the color of the decision, and these added to the tension felt at Washington. Shortly before the announcement of the finding of the court a subordinate officer of one of the departments appeared at the White House at an unusual hour and insisted upon seeing the president on the plea of important business. Having been admitted, he came at once to his errand.

"Mr. President, I have some good news for you. I have just learned an authoritative fact that the decision of the supreme court is to be in your favor." He fairly glowed with the importance of his welcome message.

"Thank you," said Mr. McKinley quietly. "That is good news. But have you informed your chief?"

"No, Mr. President. I thought you ought to be the first to know it."

"Well, Mr. —, I'm sorry for that. Now, will you please do me the favor to go at once to your chief and give him the information so that he may communicate it to me?"—Silas Harrison in Century.

SPINNING ASBESTOS.

A Thread a Hundred Yards Long and Only an Ounce in Weight.

When it leaves the cobbing sheds as bestos is sent to the spinning mills in bags containing about 100 pounds. It is then first carded by a machine somewhat resembling the saw tooth gin seen in cotton mills. This machine separates the tangled fibers, upon the completion of which operation there occurs a final carding on a regular carding machine. Leaving this carding machine the asbestos is combed smoothly and the fibers are laid parallel in a uniform mass.

The next step is to treat this mass in a rotary spinning machine. First the mass is spun into a coarse yarn. Then it is drawn and spun until it becomes fine and quite strong. In case a hard, strong thread is required for certain fabrics the asbestos yarn is placed in a doubling and twisting machine, where two or more of the yarn threads are combined. If the asbestos is to be impregnated with rubber a smooth, hard finished thread is not desirable.

For a long time the problem of spinning asbestos presented many difficulties by reason of the manner in which the threads persisted in slipping past one another. Eventually it was found that, under the microscope, a thread of asbestos displayed a notched surface and that by means of special twisting the spinning could be successfully accomplished. The result is that, after many years of experiment, manufacturers nowadays are able to turn out a single asbestos thread 100 yards in length and not exceeding an ounce in weight.—Exchange.

A Voice Without a Soul.

Tibet's dalai lama was greatly disturbed by the first photograph he saw. Edmund Candler, when in Lassa with the Younghusband expedition, heard from the Nepalese resident how he had recently brought the uncanny toy as a present from the maharajah of Nepal to the priest king. The dalai lama walked around it uneasily as it blared forth an English band piece and an indelicate Bhutanese song. Then he thought for a long while, and finally said he could not live with this voice without a soul. So it was passed on to somebody else.

A Paternal Proposition.

"The government throws all the obsolete army weapons in the junk pile. They are unsalable."

"Seems to me the government gives very little thought to pleasing its citizens."

"How now?"

"Think of the innocent joy that would result if they buried those weapons on the various battlefields for tourists to dig up."—Kansas City Journal.

Ovid and Aviation.

If the aviators of today wish for a classical motto, what better can they take than this passage from Ovid's "Ars Amatoria," 2, 43—

quis crederet umquam
Aeris hominem carpe posse vias?
which means, "Who would believe that man will ever be able to take aerial paths?"—Youth's Companion.

Real Obliging.

Creditor—I should like to know when you are going to pay this bill. I can't come here every day in the week. Debtor—What day would suit you best? Creditor—Saturday. Debtor—Very well; then you can call here every Saturday.—London Opinion.

Never Lonesome.

"You really like country life, do you, Dolby?" asked Pethow.
"You bet I do," said Dolbyson.
"What do you do with yourself nights?" asked Pethow.
"Oh, I come to town," said Dolbyson.—Lampson's Weekly.

TROOPS GUARD ITS GOLD.

Every Night the Bank of England Has a Military Display.

For 120 years a company of guardsmen in charge of an officer marched every evening from the Chelsea or the Wellington barracks to the Bank of England. For the last few years, owing to the great increase of street traffic, the soldiers have gone by the underground railway, and nowadays the nightly guard is drawn from the troops stationed in the Tower of London.

If the visitor to London waits by the bank any evening at half past 6 o'clock he will see about thirty men in the charge of a lieutenant and two sergeants marched up in parade dress with fixed bayonets and loaded ammunition belts. These are the only troops that may march through the city of London with fixed bayonets.

The men themselves like this duty. When they march back to quarters, about 7 o'clock in the morning, they may do as they please for the rest of the day, and they receive an extra shilling a day from the bank managers. Each man also has a pair of fine blankets wherein to wrap himself while he waits for his turn to go on guard, and in winter big fires are lighted for them. They have generous refreshments provided for them, and the officer in command has a dinner for himself and two friends.

In the daytime another curious survival of the past is to be observed. Although detectives guard all the doors, the old uniformed headles are also paid for the service. From the standpoint of efficiency, these officials are very much in the way, but as long as the Bank of England has been in existence the headles have policed it. Consequently the headles are allowed to remain.

The custom of providing a little garison for the bank dates back to 1780, when an attack was made upon the bank by a mob during the Gordon riots, picturesquely described in "Barbary Rudge." It is said that in the fight that ensued between the rioters and the clerks of the bank the latter melted their metal inkpots for ammunition after their supply of bullets had given out.—Youth's Companion.

HAZARDOUS MAIL ROUTES.

Postmen in Some Countries Are Never Sure of Their Lives.

The camel postman in the Sahara hasn't any cinch—that is, if he has a family he's anxious to live for or happens to be leading a care free bachelor existence, for he needs all the nerve that he can possibly summon on every trip that he makes, for the wild tribes regard him as their particular prey, and he never does know when he starts out whether or not he is going to reach his destination.

Neither has the postman in some parts of Switzerland the safest job in the world. In fact, in several places in that country it is considered just about the most dangerous profession that a man can enter.

You see some of the postoffices are situated at a height of 7,000 feet. There is even a letter box at the summit of Langard, which is nearly 10,000 feet above the sea level. Here all sorts of disastrous things have happened to unfortunate carriers of mail. Three have been crushed to death by avalanches and a large number swooped down upon and killed by fierce eagles.

Then in India the postman always has to be on the lookout for snakes. It is claimed that within the last year 150 were killed by snake bites and twenty-seven eaten by tigers.

Queer, isn't it, when in this country the business of being a postman seems about the most harmless and least dangerous of any a man could pick out?

In parts of Siberia they have only two mail deliveries a year, while in the interior of China they have no regular delivery or regular postman.—Chicago Tribune.

Primrose Cures.

The primrose of old was credited with a medicinal as well as a superstitious value. Even now in some country parts of England a decoction of primrose leaves is supposed to restore a failing memory, and in 1654, when Culpeper wrote his "London Dispensatory," the primrose was regarded as an almost universal panacea, curing "convulsions, falling sickness, palsies, etc.," and strengthening "the brain, senses and memory exceedingly." And even the healthy did not disdain to eat it, for primrose paste was once a popular Lancashire delicacy.—London Standard.

"Pleased to Meet You."

The Americans have a polite habit on being presented to a new acquaintance of uttering the words, "Pleased to meet you," although upon what the pleasure can rest, or how they know that it is a pleasure, or why an ordinary incident which is not the fulfillment of any anticipation and which may turn out to be very disagreeable, should be pronounced at sight to be pleasant I have never been able to understand.—London Saturday Review.

Taking Their Turn.

"Why station a policeman beside this park bench?"

"It is newly painted."

"He can't keep people from testing fresh paint."

"No; but he can keep 'em in line."—Kansas City Journal.

So It Is.

"Pop, is an abyss anything sleepy?"

"Of course not, child. What put that into your head?"

"Well, it's always yawning."—Baltimore American.

IN MOVING PICTURES

A Beautiful Mexican Pennant Free with Every 10c Admission.

PROGRAM

- Street Scene in the City of Mexico. Military pageant of the American Army photographed before the war.
- Grand Cathedral. The largest Cathedral in the world which took 200 years to build.
- Old Ruins. The last battle between Americans and Mexicans was fought.
- National Palace. Where Madero made his last stand.
- Guadalupe. The holiest shrine in Old Mexico.
- The Floating Gardens. Called the Aztec's Paradise, one of the most beautiful spots in the world, magnificently pictured.
- Wild Birds at Home. Wonderful close up views of Birds in their nest feeding their young made possible by a noiseless camera and hours of patient waiting.
- A Mexican Carnival. On the Grand Canal among the Floating Gardens.
- Little Gimmieze. The Pet Monkey called "The Mascot" of the La Viga Canal engages in a fight with a rooster, an argument with a young ostrich, and investigates a phonograph, which he uses as "a human roulette wheel." One of those rare bits of animal comedy impossible to describe.
- Street Cars Crossing the Mexican Border. Searched by American Soldiers to prevent firearms being smuggled into Old Mexico.
- Old Mexico's Famous 9-Mile Steeplechase. A picture that will bring every spectator to his feet in excitement. Never was a horse race so vividly, so realistically caught by the camera as was this. At every hurdle horses fall and not one inch of film not crowded with action and excitement.
- Real War. Made on the field of action, showing Madero's Army invading Rebel territory—Battles at Pueblo—Felix Diaz's Army leaving Vera Cruz for Mexico City—General Orozco, known as the "Rebel Wildcat"—The Diaz Army entering the streets of Mexico City—Madero's soldiers in the trenches at Chapultepec and the dynamiting of great blocks of buildings in the heart of Mexico City, where huge structures tremble and crumble like egg shells into a mass of ruins.
- The Bull Fight. Mexico's National Sport shown with all its pomp and excitement—The dexterity and skill of the Toreador, with all objectionable brutal features eliminated.
- The Orphan Boys' Drill. The most perfectly drilled corps of boys in all the world, marching in and out of intricate formation, with such accuracy and perfection they are bound to bring applause even though but a film.
- The Pride of Old Mexico. The most daring Cavalrymen alive execute maneuvers never before attempted. They ride up and down absolutely perpendicular embankments from thirty to sixty feet in height, leap obstacles, ford streams and defy all competition to equal their superb horsemanship.

Can't Help But Admire Babies

Every Woman Casts Loving Glance at the Nestling Cuddled in its Bonnet.

A woman's heart naturally responds to the charm and sweetness of a pretty child, and more so to-day than ever before since the advent of Mother's Friend.

This is a most wonderful external help to the muscles and tendons. It penetrates the tissues, makes them pliant to readily yield to nature's demand for expansion, so there is no longer a period of pain, discomfort, straining, nausea or other symptoms so often distressing during the anxious weeks of expectancy.

Mother's Friend prepares the system for the coming event, and its use brings comfort, rest and repose during the term. This has a most marked influence upon the baby, since it thus inherits a splendid growing system of nerves and digestive function.

And particularly to young mothers is this famous remedy of inestimable value. It enables her to preserve her health and strength, and she remains a pretty mother by having avoided all the suffering and danger that would otherwise accompany such an occasion. Mother's Friend thoroughly lubricates every nerve, tendon and muscle involved and is a sure preventive for caking of the breasts.

You will find this splendid remedy on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle, and is highly recommended for the purpose. Write Bradford Regulator Co., 134 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and they will mail you sealed, a very instructive book for expectant mothers.

There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived in reading this little book. It is plainly written, just what every woman wants to know, and will be a splendid little textbook for guidance, not only for yourself, but will make you helpful to others. And, in the meantime, do not fail to get a bottle of Mother's Friend at the drug store, and thus fortify yourself against any and all pain and discomfort.

TENTH ILLINOIS CAVALRY WILL BIVOUAC AT SPRINGFIELD TODAY

Thirty-Sixth Reunion of the Famous Chargers at the Fair Grounds.

Once more we hear the bugle call. Once more we answer, "Here." But can it be that these are all To answer with a cheer?

In sixty-one, twelve hundred strong. We marshalled on the field, And then went proudly marching on, Determined not to yield.

October 9, last year, 32 of the gallant Tenth Illinois cavalry answered to the call of the bugle when the thirty-fifth annual reunion of the regiment was held at the state fair in Springfield. Since the bivouac of 1911 letters received at that time indicated that seventeen of the comrades had taps sounded as all that had been mortal in them were consigned to mother earth. The death roll the last year has been a small one, and those of the comrades who are assembling at the state fair today are determined to make this campfire the greatest in the history of the gallant chargers of the light horse branch of Illinois' quota of men who "went to the front" in those trying times more than half a century past.

This gathering will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Little Rock, Ark. The Tenth Illinois cavalry had an important part in this engagement, being forced to make a sabre charge through the ranks of the confederates, who made a stubborn resistance under the leadership of "Missouri" Price. The famous Tenth saw three years and four months hard service through the swamps of Arkansas, around Nashville, Tenn., and in and about Vicksburg, Miss., and after the siege of that important strategic point. This regiment was the last of the Illinois volunteers to be mustered out of Uncle Sam's service. T. D. Vredenburg of Springfield, being the lieutenant-colonel in command at the disbandment.

George Paul of this city was a member of Company D of the Tenth, quitting the printer's case on a Chicago newspaper to become one of the "light horse brigade." At the outbreak of hostilities Mr. Paul was entoured through the southland following the vicissitudes of an itinerant printer. He was headed for New Orleans, but at Holly Springs, Miss., he fell into a situation on the Herald, which was conducted by a man named Faulkner and his two sons. In the composing room was a superannuated son of Erin, John Barry, who, with Mr. Paul and one of the proprietor's sons, made up the mechanical force. After the firing of the first gun at Fort Sumter the elder Faulkner organized and became colonel of the Eighteenth Mississippi, and his two sons were made captains in the same regiment. Barry and Paul were left to manage, edit and get out the paper, which they accomplished with much satisfaction for about three weeks, when the "crackernecks" became uneasy at the presence of Young Paul upon the streets, when they believed he should be at the front toting a gun in defense of the "lost cause."

At 9 o'clock one morning a committee visited George and gave him twenty-four hours to make up his mind to join one of the confederate regiments then being organized. He did not need the time limit. He immediately sought his boarding house, conducted by an old retired northern printer, settled his bill, and with the old typo's assistance caught a train going north. He pulled up in Chicago, went to work on the old Journal for a few weeks, and then joined the Tenth cavalry. After being mustered out at Springfield, he returned to Chicago and worked on the great dailies until after the big fire, October 9, 1871, when he quit and came to Jacksonville, where he has since resided. At one time he was engaged in the hotel business in this city, retiring to a farm four miles south about fifteen years ago. Since the death of his wife, three years ago, George has rented his farm and now in the Indian summer of his life, he is enjoying a well earned rest. Mr. Paul is 75 years of age, and enjoys the best of good health. He has one daughter, who represents a Chicago book concern in Wisconsin.

The late William Crawley was another member of this famous and gallant regiment of cavalry.

KENTUCKY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 7.—Representatives from every county Sunday School association and from most of the Sunday schools in this state were present at the First Christian church in this city this morning when the forty-eighth annual convention of the Kentucky Sunday School association was called to order. The convention will extend over four days and among the features will be conferences on elementary, secondary, adult and home department work, temperance, missions, education, city problems, rural schools, the presentation of banners to various counties and individual Sunday schools which have shown the greatest activity and success during the past year.

TO DISCUSS ESTHETICS AND ART.

Berlin, Oct. 7.—Noted authorities on esthetics, philosophers, psychologists, historians of art, critics and artists from all parts of Europe are gathered here at the first international congress for Esthetics and the Science of Art, which will be in session for three days. Among the numerous interesting papers to be read at the congress is one by Sir Charles Waldstein, of London, on "The Quadruple Basis of the Study of Esthetics"; "The Esthetic Principles of Mural Painting," by Dr. A. Weese, Berner; "On Artistic Intuition," by Dr. B. Alexander, Budapest; "On the Comic," by Dr. G. H. H. Berlin; "Esthetics and Sociology," by Dr. E. Reich, Berlin; and "The Problem of the Ugly" by Dr. A. von Hartmann, Berlin.

CHURCHMEN WILL DISCUSS THE DIVORCE QUESTION

Conclave of Episcopalians Will Begin Tomorrow—Many Topics to be Discussed.

New York, Oct. 7.—What is considered by leading bishops and lay deputies as the most important conclave of Episcopalians ever held in America will begin here tomorrow, when the 43rd triennial general convention will assemble for business. Before the opening session a service will be held in the great Cathedral of St. John the Divine, at which the sermon will be preached by Right Rev. William Lawrence, bishop of Massachusetts.

The convention will continue in session about three weeks. Its work will be divided between two bodies, the house of bishops and the house of deputies. The bishops will hold their sessions in the old Synod house on the Cathedral grounds, and the deputies will meet in the new Synod house which was presented to the New York diocese by the late J. Pierpont Morgan and the late W. Bayard Cutting.

The presiding officer of the house of bishops will be Right Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle of Missouri, the senior bishop of the church in point of service. In regard to the election of president of the house of deputies, speculation is busy. Majority opinion seems to favor the selection of either the Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity church in this city, or the Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann, rector of Trinity church, Boston.

In addition to all of the bishops of the church in the United States the attendance will include missionary bishops from many distant lands. Among them will be Bishops McKim from Japan, Brent from the Philippines, Root and Graves from China, Avis from Mexico, Kinsolving from Brazil and Rowe from Alaska. Another notable figure will be Archdeacon Hudson Stuck, the Alaskan missionary who was the first to climb Mt. McKinley.

Among the important matters to be acted upon at the convention are the question of changing the name of the church, that of altering the divorce canon to prevent remarriage of any person whose partner is still living, a proposed change in the method of representation at the convention, church unity, religious education, training for the ministry, the support of disabled clergymen and their families, and plans for expanding the home and foreign missionary work of the church will also receive attention.

The question of changing the name of the church has been agitated for a long time. Many dioceses have expressed their preference one way or another in their diocesan conventions, but definite action in the matter by the general convention is hardly expected at this time. Not all of house who desire a change are agreed on exactly what form or designation they would wish to be substituted for the present "Protestant Episcopal Church." American Catholic church is the preferred name of most of those who are discontented with the present title.

The attitude of the church in relation to marriage and divorce will be seriously considered by the convention. An effort is likely to be made to amend one of the canons of the church that no clergyman of the church will be permitted to perform the marriage ceremony for any divorced person whatever.

The method of choosing the presiding bishop is of much interest to the churchmen. As now provided for by the constitution the senior bishop is the presiding bishop, and when he dies the next in rank automatically succeeds him. The seniority is regulated by the date of consecration. At the last convention an amendment to the constitution was proposed which provided that the presiding bishop should be elected at each convention. It is expected this amendment will be considered and acted upon by the present convention.

The proposed change in the method of representation at the convention is a matter that is expected to excite spirited debate. At present each diocese is entitled to four lay and four clerical delegates, regardless of the number of communicants. It is proposed that in future the number of delegates shall be based on the number of communicants.

The woman suffrage question will not be a legislative subject before the convention but it may be included in the report of the commission on social service as a subject of interest and one in which the church is seeking information. Diocesan conventions with each passing year are more and more granting to women the right of vote in parish affairs, but not the right to hold office.

AVOID CATARRH

Breathe Hyomei—It Medicates the Air You Breathe and Instantly Relieves.

Why continue to suffer from catarrh, stopped up head, husky voice, and other troubles of the breathing organs, when there is an absolutely certain, scientific remedy at hand?

Hyomei is the remedy. It is a pleasant, harmless and antiseptic medication which you breathe through a small inhaler. Breathing a few times daily through the inhaler charges the air with this germ-killing antiseptic. Catarrhal discharges, sniffles, foul breath, watery eyes and the formation of crusts in the nose are promptly relieved by this medicated air.

It is guaranteed to do it, or money back.

A complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a strong, hard rubber pocket inhaler and a bottle of Hyomei costs only $1.00, and extra bottles, if afterwards needed, are only 50 cents each. Druggists everywhere sell Hyomei.

Use Hyomei for bronchitis, coughs and cold in the head, husky voice, croup of infants, and any inflammatory disease of the breathing organs.—Adv.

ATHLETICS WIN IN FIRST CLASH WITH NEW YORK GIANTS

PHILADELPHIA AMERICANS WIN FIRST GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES

BENDER PROVES TOO MUCH FOR GIANTS AND QUAKERS WIN BY SCORE OF 6 TO 4

Philadelphia Sluggers Pound Marquard for Eight Hits and Five Runs in Five Innings--Crandall Does Poorly at the Rescue Act But Big Jeff Tesreau Finally Succeeds in Checking On- slaught of Athletics Swatters--Collins, Bender and Baker Are Day's Heroes.

New York, Oct. 7.—Outfitting and outfitting the New York Giants in the opening game of the world's series, the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the National league representatives at the Polo Grounds this afternoon by a score of six runs to four. So complete was the supremacy of the American league champions in the initial contest that the victory appeared to be but a continuation of the series of 1911, when the Athletics won the title of that year from the Giants by four games out of six.

The game was witnessed by a gathering of spectators that taxed the capacity of the New York club stadium and swelled the coffers of those financially interested to the extent of more than $75,000. The exact number of fans who paid admission to the stands was 36,291 and the day's receipts amounted to $75,155. Including those who witnessed the game in official capacity, the attendance crossed the 40,000 mark and fully half of that number failed to gain access to the park. So great were the throngs that surrounded Polo grounds that it was necessary to call out the police reserves and discontinue the elevated railroad service to the grounds gates in order that the thousands might not be augmented and sweep beyond control of the police.

Easily Outbat the Giants.
Much as the local contingent of fandom was chagrined at the defeat of the Giants, there were none who gainsay the right of the Athletics to the fruits of the victory in the opening clash. The Mack men went about their task in a business-like manner and before two hours had passed demonstrated that for the day at least their was the better team. They outbatted the Giants, driving both Marquard and Crandall from the mound with fusillades of long hits which quickly accounted for runs. In fielding too, the standard bearers of the American league outshone the representatives of the older association. Each team gathered eleven hits from the delivery of the rival twirlers, but the Athletics' drives were more timely and of greater length.

The Giants gathered twelve bases from their eleven hits while the Athletics total was twenty. The breaks that occurred in the fielding tested the metal of the Philadelphia club to a greater extent than the New York players, for with few exceptions the Athletics' chances were harder than those that were offered the Giants in field and outfield.

Shaffer Misjudges Fly.
It was Centerfielder Shaffer's misjudging of Schang's drive to deep center that really paved the way for the Athletics victory. It was one of the few hard chances offered the Giants fielders during the game and when Shaffer failed to gauge the flight of the ball the Athletics seized the opening and took the lead, never to be headed.

Eddie Collins' remarkable playing made him the hero of the day. He, however, had no monopoly on the hero's glory, for John Franklin Baker and Chief Bender did yeoman work that entitled them to recognition greater than the average participant in the game. Baker's home run and Bender's wonderful box work gave them places close to the fans' favorite.

By outclassing both Marquard and Crandall, Bender gave the Athletics the edge on tomorrow's game, since McGraw must use either Mathewson or Demaree or comeback with Tesreau, while, the leader of the Athletics has Plank, Shawkey and Brown all available for the first game at Shibe park.

Murphy First Man Up.
Eddie Murphy, playing in his first world's series, faced Marquard when Umpire Klem called "play ball."

The left-handed pitcher, following Mathewson's usual custom of grooving the first ball, let go a pitch that Murphy caught at the end of his bat and sent it out to Murray for an easy catch. Oldring started the Athletics "rooters" shouting when he slashed a single to right field. Marquard believing that Oldring would try to steal second, kept him close to the bag and finally, by a lightning throw, caught the Philadelphia base runner napping. Merkle making the out. Oldring protested against Umpire Egan's decision, but it availed him nothing. On the next ball pitched Collins shot a clean base hit to center, but he was left on first when Baker flied out to Burns.

When New York came to bat there was much cheering, but the shouts of the Giants supporters did not last long. Shaffer, the first to face the Chippewa Indian, sent up a fly to Murphy in right field and Doyle flied out to Strunk. Fletcher sent to right field. Doyle moved up to third on Fletcher's hit and scored New York's fourth run while Baker was throwing out Fletcher at second on Burns' grounder. Collins making the out. Herzog flew out to Collins.

Pitcher Crandall relieved Marquard in the sixth and disposed of the Philadelphia in one, two, three order. New York also went out in the same order in its half of the sixth.

Merkle Tagged Out Stealing.
Murray was out Murphy to McInnis and Meyers was thrown out by Bender. With two out and the count three and two for Merkle the latter made a half swing at a low wild pitch. Schang dropped the ball, picked it up, touched Merkle and then rolled the ball to the pitcher's box. Merkle went to first base and seeing the ball rolling past the pitcher's box started for second. Collins got the ball relayed it to McInnis and as Merkle tried to get back to first, McInnis touched him with the ball. Merkle was declared out by Umpire Egan, ending the inning.

It appears that Umpire Klem had given Merkle his base on balls instead of a strikeout of which Schang was not aware and Merkle was trying to take advantage of the confusion and rolling ball to take second base.

Crandall again had the Athletics tied up in the seventh inning. Bender struckout. Murphy was an easy out for Doyle to Merkle and Oldring sent a fly to Shaffer.

Lightning Double Play.
New York's fine chance to score was killed by a lightning double play in which Barry and Collins were the master workmen. Crandall was out Barry to McInnis. Shaffer drove a single to centerfield and flashed to third base when Doyle hit to right field for a single. Collins called Barry over to second base and consulted a moment. They were evidently expecting the New Yorkers to try some fancy base running. Whatever New York's intentions were in that regard they were spoiled when Fletcher hit an ugly fast ball to Barry. He got it cleanly, tossed it to Collins who made a rifle shot to McInnis and the inning was over. This sterling defense of the Philadelphia infield provoked applause from the "rooters" of the Giants even though it killed New York's opportunity to tie the score.

The eighth inning saw the end of Crandall. Collins beat out an infield hit, Doyle failing to cover first. Baker then came up and hit a sharp single to left field, Collins taking third. McInnis smashed a two base hit into left field, Collins coming in with the sixth and last run of the game and Baker going to third. With one run and two on bases and no one out, Tesreau relieved Crandall. Tesreau immediately put his spit ball in action and Strunk struckout on three pitched balls. Baker, McInnis and Barry tried the hit and run. Tesreau appeared to be wise to the play and pitched the ball high. Both runners were caught between the bases and the New Yorkers of course, tried for the nearest man to the plate, Baker. They got him as he slid to the home base, the play being, Meyers to Doyle to Merkle. Barry flied to Doyle.

Bender was now pitching good ball and although New York got a man on base in the eighth he could not advance. Burns went out Baker to McInnis; Herzog was thrown out at first by Collins and Murray hit a bouncer over Baker's head, giving him first. Meyers sent a long fly to Strunk.

In Philadelphia's final turn at bat, Schang was thrown out at first by Herzog and Tesreau took care of Bender's slow grounder, throwing him out at first. Eddie Murphy drew a base on balls and the inning closed when he tried to steal second, and was out, Meyers to Doyle.

The crowd started to move out when New York came to bat. Merkle grounded out, Barry to McInnis; McInnis pinch-hitting for Tesreau sent a pop fly to Barry and the game was over when Shaffer struckout.

FINANCES OF WORLD'S SERIES

How the Vast Gate Receipts Are Divided.

LIMIT TO PLAYERS' SHARE.

They Figure in Money Taken in During First Four Games Only—Winners Get 60 Per Cent and Losers 40. How Clubs and Commission Profit.

Naturally the first question the baseball fan asks himself or his neighbor is, "Who is going to win the world's series?" and right on top of it comes the query, "How much do the players get?" So strongly has the dollar sign been burned into the average American brain that there is almost as much interest in the concrete coin involved in the big series as in the possession of the abstract title for which the teams will compete.

Nearly everybody has been able to figure out in advance to his own satisfaction what chance each team has to win the bunting emblematic of the highest baseball honor, but a great deal of uncertainty and misinformation exists regarding the financial emoluments germane to the world's series. In a general way the public knows that the players of the competing teams share in the coin taken in at the gate, and the great majority of the fans understand that the teams divide this coin 60 per cent to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser. The same majority believe that it is for the interest of the players to have the world's series last as long as convenient so as to increase the size of the melon that is cut up at its conclusion.

A Limit to Players' End.

To combat this tendency to suspicion on the part of the sport loving public the rules which govern the distribution of the money were framed so as to give the players no interest in the world's series after four games have been played to a decision. The contestants share only in the receipts of the first four games, and consequently it is to their interest to finish the series as soon as possible. The club owners profit most when a series lasts over four games, and there is hardly a ball player in the country who does not begrudge the club owner these additional profits, so that there never would be a series of over four games if the players were able to end it that way.

It is seldom, however, that a world's series extends beyond five games, so that the players really are the greatest beneficiaries.

The players do not divide all the income from the first four games of a series—far from it. Their pool is made up in this way: From the gross receipts of each game 10 per cent is deducted for the national commission, which conducts the series. After that deduction the remaining 90 per cent is divided into two portions. Sixty per cent is put into the players' pool and the other 40 per cent into the coffers of the two club owners, who split their share half and half.

To illustrate, suppose the gross receipts of the first game amount to $20,000. The first thing done is to deduct $2,000 and hand it to the national commission. That leaves $18,000, of which 60 per cent, or $10,800, goes into the pool to be distributed among the players and $7,200 goes to the club owners, each of them taking $3,600 for his share. This is the method of parceling out the coin for each of the first four games played.

Further Details.

If the gross receipts were exactly $20,000 for each of those days it can be seen that the national commission's share would be $8,000 for the four games and the players' pool would amount to the sum of $43,200, while each club owner would get $14,400 if the series lasted only four games. After the fourth game the split is entirely different. The national commission still gets its $2,000 for every $20,000 taken in, but the club owners divide the remaining $18,000 half and half between them, $9,000 apiece. It is to the interest of every one except the players, therefore, to have the series go the limit.

Out of its 10 per cent the national commission pays part of the expenses of conducting the series. Out of its share come the salaries and expenses of the four umpires and two official scorers assigned to the series, the cost of the emblems given to the victors and the pennant awarded to the winning club; also a small part of the expenses of the national commission while attending the series. The club owners must pay out of their share of the coin all other expenses in connection with the series. These include the salaries of the players, their traveling expenses, the cost of printing and distributing tickets, advertising, police, park employees and all the many other incidental expenses of the series.

Ouimet, Young Golf "Champ," Will Remain an Amateur

Photos by American Press Association.

FRANCIS OUIMET, the sensational young Boston lad who won the open golf championship of the United States at Brookline, Mass., recently, denies that he will quit the amateur end of the game and join the professionals.

The report that Ouimet would join the money makers has been widely circulated.

The lad's wonderful performance in defeating Harry Vardon and Ned Ray, England's great professional masters of the game, has made him a headliner of imposing proportions. Jerry Travers, the noted amateur champion, prophesied at Garden City, N. Y., when he defeated Ouimet, that "the youngster is a sure enough phenomenon and will make a great name for himself some day."

And Jerry was right, as the Brookline tournament proved. In the accompanying illustration Ouimet is shown playing the last hole at Brookline, when he worsted Vardon, his nearest competitor, by five strokes, and also he is pictured being carried on the shoulders of the enthusiastic crowd after winning the title.

From their pool, and in addition to this financial reward for winning their respective league championships their salaries are paid pro rata as long as the world's series lasts.

MATHEWSON'S CAREER.

Famous Pitcher Once Agreed to Go on Mack's Team.

Christy Mathewson, the veteran of the New York Giants' pitching staff, has been one of the most prominent figures in baseball for the past ten years. His record as a pitcher is one of the greatest in baseball annals. He was born in Factoryville, Va., on Aug. 12, 1880. As a boy he was a pitcher for the Scranton Young Men's Christian association, and later went to Bucknell, where he was a star baseball and football player.

His first professional engagements were with the Norfolk club of the Virginia league and Taunton club of the New England league, but he did not stay long in the minors, for Connie Mack, now manager of the Athletics, saw him play and was eager to sign him. Mack made Mattie an offer, which he accepted, but later the New York management offered him greater inducements, and Mathewson joined the Giants in 1901.

Mathewson has become an idol to baseball fans all over the country, and his famous fadeaway ball, a slow deceptive drop, is one of the greatest curves ever developed in the game. Mathewson's greatest year was in 1908, when he won thirty-seven games and lost eleven. Mattie is six feet one inch tall and weighs about 200 pounds.

Great Wesleyan Hurdler Changes His Mind About Retiring.

Jim Wendell has changed his mind. The big athlete from Wesleyan university whose hurdling was one of the features of the intercollegiate games last May is not going to retire after all.

Wendell announced a few weeks ago that he was through with athletics for good, but now Wendell has yielded to pressure and has started training for future meets.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

Ban Johnson is out with a reform in the matter of splitting the world's series money. The chubby Ban's plan will not affect the players' share of the pickings. As before they will divide the earnings of the first four games, 60 and 40. But the American league president would cut the national commission's off from 10 per cent to 5 per cent, and allow the 25 per cent pro rata to each league remain as a present. It is a question, however, whether Johnson's mates upon the national comish will tolerate a cut in their fees for gasoline cart rides, theatrical parties, wine suppers, cabarets, etc., during these annual contests. It takes money to maintain a fastidious commission during the playing of a world's series, and 5 per cent will look penurious in the eyes of these high fliers.

Vice President Marshall, since becoming a resident of the national capital, has blossomed out into a rabid baseball fan. He chafes because his official duties will deprive him of an opportunity to witness any of the world's series; but he is pulling strong for the Athletics, whom he believes are going to annex the necessary four games.

Despite all efforts upon the part of the managers of both championship teams, speculation in tickets for the series is greater than ever before. Some of the season boxholders are being caught by investigators disposing of their holdings to the scalpers. Under an agreement of the two clubs all such persons will in the future be compelled to buy their single admissions from the line of the common herd. No more season box reservations will be sold to persons caught disposing of these privileges to outsiders.

Hermann and Lynch of the national commission have backed down on the player-writer graft. Ban Johnson is in the minority on the commission and is powerless to prevent the players from selling their names to yellow sheets to be placed over baseball articles that they do not write.

Betting on the White Sox-Cubs series in Chicago is rather lively, and because of the uncertainty of Ed Walsh participating in the games, the West Side team has been made the favorite at odds of 7 to 5.

The University of Pennsylvania football team has lost its veteran tackle, Harry Wilson. The star of the red and blue is a senior in the medical school and he has decided to devote all of his time to his studies and will pass up all athletics. His loss will be a heavy blow to Coach Brooke, Capt. Young and to the chances of the school adjacent to the Schuylkill.

Featherweight Johnny Kilbane appears not to be at ease as the champion of his class, and has gone outside of his rating to hook up. He was arrested in Cleveland on Monday for knocking out 11-year-old Charles Chambers in a dispute concerning a bicycle. He is at liberty on a bond for his appearance before a police trial judge.

They are off today in the big Endurance race at Louisville, Ky. From a field of thirty nominations but six horses are expected to face the barrier. Jack McGinnis' Sam Jackson is made the favorite for the four-mile jaunt, carrying 119 pounds, which is quite a package to struggle under over this distance. The track is fast and the world's record, 7:10 4-5, is likely to be splintered.

Baseball moguls throughout the country are following the lead of Charley Comiskey and are canning the bars from their ball parks. Garry Hermann is the last to fall in line and has notified the Cincinnati exercise commission that he will not renew his license to operate bar at his ball park. The withdrawal of Garry, however, is not voluntary. Ohio has just put in force a very drastic liquor license law, under the provisions of which it is impossible for a ball park to comply with its mandate. Now, if some of the owners of the big clubs will banish the "hot dog" hawkers, patrons of the games will be permitted to at least enjoy one-half of the festivities.

This is the morning that you will meet the fellow with: "Eh, Bo, didn't I tell you so." If McGraw wins today you will find him with the same greeting working upon the other fellow.

A GOOD CROP.

Samuel W. Henry of Woodson finished planting a field of 30 acres in corn July 2nd. The land was strong and if the corn had matured it would have yielded sixty bushels to the acre. It was laid by August 2 and cut the 2nd of October and roasting ears were taken from some part of it every day. Mr. Henry is now feeding five shocks a day to cattle and hogs who clean up all they are fed.

CITY COUNCIL HELD SPECIAL MEETING TUESDAY MORNING

Bid of the Worthington Company for Electric Pump Was Accepted—Will Be Installed at Widenham & Daub Wells.

A special session of the city council was held Tuesday morning for the purpose of taking action on the bids for an electric pump to be installed at the Widenham & Daub wells. The bid of the Worthington company for $2,430 was accepted. The council met at 8 a. m. promptly with all members except Com. Newman present. When the roll was called Com. Engel responded that he was partly present.

Mayor Davis stated that the meeting had been adjourned until the present time for the consideration of the bids for motor and pump. He called on Com. Brennan for his report.

Com. Brennan produced the various bids and discussed them. The Fairbanks-Morse Union Pump Co. had mentioned in bid a duplex pump while it was a triplex that was wanted.

The Reeves-Skinner people had put in a bid free on board cars when bids for machinery placed on foundation were wanted and that cost added to their bid would make it too much.

The Henion & Hubbel pump was not of a satisfactory construction as Com. Brennan explained. At this point, S. I. Com. Newman entered and took his seat.

The McGowan bid did not state whether it was on foundation or not and was not admissible. The bids seemed to be narrowed down to the Platt Iron Works and the Worthington people.

Mr. Brennan was favorable to the Worthington pump and gave his reasons, one being used at the city pumping works 25 years and is a good pump yet for several years. The Worthington Co. bid was $2,430. Mayor Davis said the pump should of course be thoroughly tested. The steam pump used by the city certainly had given excellent satisfaction and he hoped the electric would be as good.

Com. Knollenberg said he was rather opposed to paying so much as 75 per cent of the purchase price down but it was suggested that that matter would be arranged. The contract which would have to be satisfactory to Com. Brennan and meet the views of the council. The bid was awarded the Worthington Pump company unanimously. E. L. Webb, a representative of the company, was present and said he thanked the council for the contract. The price was very low but the company had made a bid to get the order. He was glad the pump bought so long ago had proved so good and he said competition was so keen that the goods made today were even better than those made years ago.

Adjourned. The pump is to be set at the Widenham Daub wells and run by power from the city plant. Com. Knollenberg stated that they are getting estimates on both overhead and underground wires and should the latter not prove too expensive they will have the preference as they would entail little expense of upkeep and be permanent.

The specifications for the pump are a 12 by 12 Deane vertical triplex, single acting regularly fitted pump with double reduction gears and motor base on which will be mounted one fifty-horse power 2300 volt three-phase 50-cycle 635 R. P. M. general electric motor with controller complete. The pump is to be able to raise fifteen feet and pump a million gallons in 24 hours against a head of 185 feet.

CHAPIN.

The services at the Christian church Monday night were well attended. Rev. J. C. Reynolds of Winchester delivered an excellent discourse. Subject, "Roll Ye Away the Stone."

Mrs. Woodward and Mrs. Lamb were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Hatches at Morgan City Monday evening. The Christian church has been thoroughly cleaned the past week and a new carpet put down, two of the registers moved and several needed improvements made. The committee in charge desire to thank all who assisted in the work. It seems to the writer that all who call themselves Christians should be glad and willing to co-operate in the Lord's work.

LITERBERRY.

Mrs. S. H. Crum has been confined to her bed for several days, but is convalescing now. Dr. Obermeyer removed the boards from her arm Sunday and her many friends expect to see her on the streets again in a few days.

Mrs. W. E. Murray continues to improve and she congratulates herself that she is getting along so well. Her numerous friends were very uneasy about her for a few days. Mrs. Murray speaks in praise of the treatment she received at the Passavant hospital.

Some one reported an old fashioned barn raising on the farm of A. W. Petefish last Thursday. We want to correct this report and will say that Mr. Petefish is one of the most progressive farmers in the north end of Morgan county and would be the last man to introduce old fashioned ways to take the place of modern, up to date ways. Let us take a retrospective view and note some of the old fashioned barn or house raisings. The hand spike, and skid poles were gotten ready days before; every neighbor brought his ax with him; the men were all well-dressed, dressed in homespun or blue jeans pants, with cow skin boots on their feet and every one carried in one of his capacious pockets a twist of long green, or a flat plug of black tobacco. This old fashioned crowd of pioneers were much stronger than our modern men. They took much pride in their strength and one could and would lift as much as any four of our modern men. These good men would work all day and sometimes two days at one raising. They were good natured and jolly and willing to lay out the last ounce of their strength for the benefit of their neighbor, for, remember, these raisings were affairs of honor and a neighbor who absent himself from one without the very best excuse was considered the meanest specimen of humanity. Things were done by main force, every man to his place until the last log was up and the proprietor announced the job done. Then the fun began. The big jug was set out and every man walked up and took liberal rations of what they thought was the elixir of life. After a good dinner of pork and beans and hominy, beef and vegetables, wild game, corn bread and butter, with dried fruits and nuts for desert, and good butter milk to drink; then, if there was any of the day remaining, there were given feats of strength among the men; foot racing, jumping, racing, wrestling, boxing, generally winding up with a dog fight, which invariably ended in a half dozen man fights, after which all retired to their homes, feeling they had done their duty toward their neighbor and were ready, when called on for another old fashioned raising. Let us look at the Petefish raising and if we can tell it so you can understand it, you will agree that it was a modern up to date raising. The barn building is 50x52 feet, corner posts sixteen feet 8x8; concrete basement 32x26, with wings; Luther A. Cooper, architect and builder. The timber for this barn was sawed from trees on the place; sawyer, Mr. Ben Todd Litter. We heard many words of praise for the correct sawing of these timbers. Every piece went to its place and it was a pleasure to watch such a structure go up, without any confusion and with very little exertion. The men came to this raising wearing store clothes, high collars, patent leather shoes and wearing gloves on their hands, but just as willing to work as the old pioneers. Here, the necessity was lacking, for instead of doing things the old way, the new was substituted; blocks and tackle were used and a large team of horses did the work of a hundred men; these forty-five men, with the new facilities did more and better work, with less danger and exertion, in three hours than the same number of fore-fathers could do in three days. Times and conditions have changed; the big jug was conspicuous by its absence; a twist of long green would have been treasured as a souvenir and we failed to hear an oath or a coarse remark during the day. And the dinner; well the good ladies might have thought of an old fashioned spread, because they spread it outdoors; but about the only old fashioned thing we saw was drinking coffee out of tin cups. The shoat was roasted with sweet potatoes and was delicious and might have passed for an old time southern dish, but all the new kinds of of excellent salads, fine cakes and different kinds of pie, equaling and rivaling those that "mother baked," proved that the ladies of Literberry and vicinity are modern and up to date with their cooking and the men ditto in their raisings.

ERUPTION LIKE
RINGWORM ON FACE

Covered with Watery Blisters. Itched and Burned Terribly. Little Rest at Night. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Entirely Cured.

Lock Box 35, Maurice, Ia. — "In the spring of 1911 our little daughter, age five years, had a breaking out on her lip and part of her cheek that we took for ringworm. It resembled a large ringworm, only it differed in that it was covered with watery blisters that itched and burned terribly, made worse by her scratching it. Then the blisters would break through and let out a watery substance. She was very cross and fretful while she had it and had very little rest at night. When the eruption was at its worst the teacher of the school sent her home and would not allow her to attend until the disfigurement of her face was gone.

"We tried to kill it by applying but without result. It would seem to get better and then broke out again. I then wrote and received a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We washed the sore with the Cuticura Soap and applied the Cuticura Ointment and they gave instant relief, so we bought some more. It gradually grew better. We kept on using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in three or four months the child was entirely cured." (Signed) Mr. Henry Pries, Oct. 22, 1912.

Cuticura Soap 25c, and Cuticura Ointment 50c, are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

SPORTING TOPICS OF THE MOMENT

Pitcher Shawkey of the Philadelphia Athletics.

BRITONS VS. OLYMPIC GAMES

Much Sentiment Exists In England Against Participating In The Blue Ribbon Athletic Events After Berlin Contests to Be Held In 1916.

Connie Mack has a genius for picking out young ballplayers that make good. Some of the experts aver that he has another "find" in his young pitcher, Shawkey, who was secured by the Athletics about the middle of this year.

Shawkey is a nifty lad, and his courage is backed by a splendid assortment of curves. His speed is developing nicely.

Owing to the illness of Jack Coombs Mack's pitching staff was weakened severely, but the manager watched the world's series approach with every confidence because Shawkey had displayed form warranting that he could effectively relieve Bender or Plank in an emergency if necessary.

PITCHER SHAWKEY.

Johnny McTaggart, the midge jockey who was the sensation of the race tracks in the metropolitan section this season, because he rode so many winners, showed skill of high order at the Havre de Grace track a few days ago and captured the first four races with Yenghee at even money, Briar Path at 2 to 5, Tripler at 4 to 1 and Impression at 9 to 5. In the fifth race he was third, with Polly II at 4 to 5 to show, and he landed Tay Pay third in the last race.

If the wishes of a majority of British sportsmen are followed Great Britain's last appearance in the Olympic games will be at Berlin in 1916. This sentiment is steadily growing, and public opinion would favor withdrawing from the Olympic organization immediately except for two reasons.

First, the Germans might construe the withdrawal as due to anti German prejudice, and, second, other nations might think that after the poor showing the team made at Stockholm Great Britain was unable to hold its own against other countries. The policy advocated by the most influential men in the English world of sport is to send a representative, well trained delegation to Berlin and then withdraw gracefully. The reasons behind this policy lie in the belief that the Olympic games are becoming semi-professional contests and that instead of fulfilling the purpose of their founder, which was to create international friendship, they have had the opposite effect.

Theodore Cook, the most influential member of the British Olympic council, in discussing the matter, said recently:

"Personally I am of the opinion that as soon as we have decided that a team can be sent to Berlin we should also decide to withdraw from the games in the future at a date previous to the choice of the city at which the games will be held in 1920. I say this in spite of my belief that preparations for the Olympic games and competition in them are of the greatest benefit to all forms of sport in this country, because we seem too much inclined to take things easy, to avoid all trouble and to play our games among ourselves, whether other people play them better or not."

A QUERY FOR THE FANS.

A Cleveland correspondent, writing of a recent Cleveland-Athletic game in Philadelphia, said:

"Chapman almost committed a grievous crime in the seventh inning. Luckily for Chappie, Schang's boneheaded play appeared at the same time. Chapman was on third with the bases filled. Schang struck out. Schang dropped the third strike. He forgot the rules of the game, and so did Chapman. Chapman dashed toward the plate, thinking he had been forced. Schang stepped on the plate, also thinking Chapman had been forced, and hurled to McInnis for a double play. Chapman scampered back to third before McInnis could get the ball to the bag."

Puzzle—What was the biggest boneheaded play pulled out by whom?

HOW TESREAU STARTED.

Big Giant Pitcher Was Once a Lead Miner.

Jeff Tesreau, the massive young pitcher of the New York Giants, is enjoying his second year in the major league and was one of the finds of 1912. Tesreau was born in Ironton, Mo., twenty-three years ago, and he was such a bad ball player that he wasn't good enough for the Ironton town team. He was too big and clumsy. He went to a neighboring town—Perryville, Mo.—and played a couple of days a week, working in the lead mines on the other days.

Jeff got his first real chance with the Austin club of the Texas league, but soon after he joined it the club disbanded and he went with the Houston club. Next he went to Galveston. One of Hugh Jennings' scouts recommended Jeff to Detroit, but he was released after a few days with the club.

Manager McGraw first saw Tesreau pitch in Shreveport, La., in the spring of 1910. He was attracted by the man's massive build and speedy shoots. Tesreau was signed by the Giants and took the spring training trip with them in 1911. Early last season Tesreau was let out to the Toronto club of the International league, where, under Joe Kelley, he developed into a capable pitcher. He won fourteen games and lost nine with Toronto. Tesreau is six feet two inches tall and weighs 225 pounds. He is a right handed pitcher and batter.

MINDS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Able Fullback Likely to Lead Country In That Position.

Fullback Minds of the University of Pennsylvania football team is likely to lead the country this year in his position, according to some of the critics that have seen him work.

condition to stand a vigorous gridiron campaign.

He has been practicing place kicking a great deal, and he can be depended upon to make many points in this way for the Quakers. As a punter, drop kicker and line buckler, Minds has already made his mark.

Barry to Race Greer.

E. Barry of London, professional sculling champion of the world, has accepted a challenge from Frank B. Greer of Boston, Mass., professional sculling champion of the United States, for a race on the Thames for the championship of the world. The stakes are to be $2,500 each. Barry, who consents to allow Greer $250 toward his expenses, suggests that the race take place at the end of November.

BUSINESS SUSPENDED IN PHILADELPHIA

THOUSANDS WATCH SCORE BOARDS IN FRANKLIN CITY.

Little Business Is Transacted In Center of the City While Game Between Athletics and New York Receives Report of the game at Hospital.
Is Being Played—Jack Coombs

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Business was practically suspended in the center of this city today while the game between the Athletics and Giants was in progress in New York. More than ten thousand spectators watched an electric score board from the city hall plaza, others crowded about newspaper bulletin boards and many others viewed the game in theatres.

Signs and superstitions were numerous among the good natured crowds. When a load of empty barrels, which has long been with many of the Athletic rooters, a pre-arrangement of victory for their favorites, went past, the throng on City Hall Plaza, hats were doffed and a great cheer went up. The next play displayed was Baker's home run, scoring Collins ahead of him. The crowd went wild and there were many expressions of "I told you so." Every score was the signal for an outburst of cheering. At the end of the ninth inning the cheers of the assembled fans seemed to shake the surrounding buildings. Pitcher Jack Coombs, hero of two previous world's series and the only player eligible to participate in the series not at the Polo Grounds, received the report of the game by telephone at his bedside in the University Hospital. His wife and Mrs. C. I. Thomas were at Shibe Park and told him each play as it was flashed on the score board there. Coombs who is suffering from twisted muscles is stretched out in bed with a 38-pound weight attached to his feet.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Try This! Hair Gets Thick, Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful at Once—Stops Falling Out.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft, hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

STOCKS RISE SLIGHTLY IN THE EARLY TRADING

MARKET FALLS BACK AND BUSI- NESS CEASES IN SECOND HOUR

In the Afternoon Traders Took More Interest in Baseball Than in the Stock Market and Trading is on the Smallest Scale of Many Weeks.

(By Associated Press)
New York, Oct. 7.—Stocks rose slightly in the early trading today with the best showing of strength by Reading, Canadian Pacific, American and Amalgamated. In the second hour the market fell back again and business virtually ceased. Prices ended on a dead level until shortly before the close, when there was an other small upturn. Final changes among the leading stocks were unimportant.

The significant feature of the day was cessation of the liquidation in iron and steel stocks which had been driving them down for several days.
It is the opinion of some traders that selling of these stocks, particularly United States steel, had been overdone and covering of shorts was the main factor in the morning advance.
Aside from the demand in this course the bidding of stocks was small and after the covering movement ceased the market was allowed to take care of itself.

In the afternoon trading was on the smallest scale of many weeks.
Traders took more interest in baseball than in the stock market and when the championship game began, crowds around the news tickers were larger than those about the trading posts. Hardening money rates tended to restrict speculation. Time money rates were advanced for the short periods. Call loans were renewed at 4 per cent; nearly one per cent above yesterday's renewal

ETAFAH CAPTURES KENTUCKY FUTURITY

MEMPHIS HORSE DRIVEN BY GEERS WINS FEATURE RACE.

Veteran Driver and Owner Frank G. Jones Are Given Great Ovation—Winner Trots First Heat in Fastest Time Ever Made in Kentucky Futurity.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 7.—The Kentucky Futurity for three year old trotters, the $14,000 feature of today's grand circuit racing, was won by Etawah, owned by Frank G. Jones of Memphis and driven by Ed F. (Pop) Geers. The gold cup offered by the Phoenix hotel, was presented to Geers by George W. Bain and the veteran driver and Mr. Jones were given an ovation. The time in the first heat, 2:05 3/4, made by Don Chenault, who finished seventh in the second heat and was distanced in the third, is the fastest time ever made in the Kentucky Futurity and the second fastest heat ever trotted by a three year old.

Springfield Races Postponed.
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 7.—Rain forced the abandonment of today's card of races at the Illinois state fair. The program will be taken up tomorrow morning with the events scheduled for today and run through as far as possible before sunset provided the track is fit for use.

POST-SEASON SERIES

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 7.—Cleveland defeated the Pittsburgh Nationals today two to one in an eleven inning pitchers' battle. Gregg, Cleveland's star southpaw, opposed Robinson, Pittsburgh's best left hander and honors were about even. Gregg's first base on balls helped Pittsburgh to their only run and Robinson's base on balls allowed Cleveland to score the deciding tally. Score: R. H. E.
Pittsburgh 000 100 000 00—1 7 2
Cleveland 000 001 000 01—2 6 0
Batteries—Robinson and Simon, Gibson; Gregg and O'Neill, Carisch.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Stock of the Chicago Americans took a jump today with the postponement of the first game of the Chicago championship series. News last night that Pitcher Ed Walsh probably would be able to take a prominent part in the series was followed today by practically authoritative statements, that Schulte, the Nationals' slug outfielder, would not take part. Thousands of persons were disappointed today when rain fell hard enough to flood the west side grounds and delay the opening contest. Many persons, including several women, stood in the downpour unprotected from it in hope that they would see a game today, but Judge Kavanaugh, representative of the national commission decided it was too wet for a game. The first battle, therefore, probably will take place tomorrow on the National league grounds.

SPICY SPORT CHATS.

Johnny Coulon, the bantamweight champion, is about through. He is a sick man, and it is doubtful if he ever will be able to stand up under the punishment of a twenty round match with a new virile youngster like Williams. The writer is reliably informed by an intimate of Coulon's that the little fellow is practically through for good. The next man he attempts to meet over the twenty round distance will surely defeat him, the "infer" has it.

In connection with the Wootton-Siever case there has been discussion all over England of what is termed the American style of riding, alluded to as the "monkey crouch." It is said that Tod Sloan took the style to London sixteen years ago, and almost all the jockeys have taken it up since.

The chief criticism seems to be that, although shortening the leathers, which brings the jockey out of the ordinary seat, enables him to climb up on the horse's neck, lightens the horse's burden and increases his speed, the jockey is not able to control his mount, as in the past.

WILL WED IN SPRINGFIELD.
John A. Shadid expects to leave the city Friday for Springfield to make preparations for his marriage Sunday at 4 p. m. to Miss Sadie Shadid of that city, a daughter of Mrs. Absomara Shadid. The ceremony will take place at the home of the groom's brother, David Shadid, on East Miller street. Mr. Shadid expects to return with his bride to the city Monday. They will reside at 741 North Main street.

SINCLAIR.

George Wheeler and others delivered their oats at the Elmore elevator.
Mr. Wetherford sold a car load of northern potatoes to farmers around this town recently.
M. J. Fox visited in Ashland October 2.
William Nanty is building a new house on his farm north of here.
Myrtle McNeal, Lilly Hale and Dick Foster went to Peoria Sunday.
William Smith had a musical entertainment Saturday night.
John Laurant is on the sick list.
Mrs. Marie Ward entertained a few friends at dinner Sunday.
Rev. H. F. Cusick filled his regular appointment at Helion Sunday.

A LINCOLN HOLIDAY.

Editor of the Journal:
I see in your Journal of Friday that Gov. Dunne wishes to change the date of Thanksgiving day. I have a high opinion of the ability of the governor, so much so that I traveled fourteen hundred miles last November to vote for him—but this fad is the biggest fool thing out since Mark Twain's account of Michael Angelo advising the Almighty how to build the world. Thanksgiving day was observed before Lincoln was born, before the United States was born, instituted by God-fearing citizens to commemorate what some men had done, but to thank God for the bountiful harvest and other blessing that had been given them during the year and now you want to mix it up with the Gettysburg address. Why Lincoln if he was alive would be the first one to protest against it—and now let the good old day the last Thursday in November stand the day that Lincoln when president named his last Thanksgiving proclamation for the people to meet in their places of worship and return thanks to God for the blessings of the year.

Have a great celebration on the 50 anniversary of the delivering of that great Gettysburg address by Abraham Lincoln, that man so great that the Nation is more than willing to set aside a day by itself to celebrate that important event and make it a holiday by itself and to leave the other holiday of Thanksgiving where it belongs.

A. Platt,
Longwood, Miss.

AVOID THE BRONCHIAL COUGHS OF EARLY FALL

The changeable weather of early fall brings on bronchitis and a hard cough that is wearing on the system and seems to tear open the bronchial tubes and mucus lining of the throat. Use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly. For it will soothe and heal the inflamed mucus lining, relieve the cough quickly, and help to expel the cold. It contains no opiates. Get the genuine in the yellow package, and refuse substitutes. City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer. (Adv.)

MARKET LETTERS.

Chicago Live Stock Market.

Oliver S. Green, with Walter Bros. U. S. Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill., reports the estimated receipts for Monday, Oct. 6:
Cattle—16,000, 5,500 being western rangers.
Hogs—43,000.
Sheep—43,000.

The supply of well fattened beefs was only moderate and at 9c and above. The market was active and 10 to 15c higher. The class selling at $8.50 and up to around 9c to 10c better. The paunchy and plain heavy offerings of low dressing percent slow and no more than steady. Fat yearlings again had the best call. We sold 21 yearlings averaging 942 pounds at $9.50. 1 at this lot were several of the Swiss breed; 53 other yearlings, 1182 pounds, at $9.50. Some 10 car loads yearlings, $9.25 to $9.40.
20 1202 pound steers, $9.40.
52 1521 pound steers, $9.40.
26 1552 pound steers, $9.40.

Well fattened lots, light handy and heavy weights were the favored kind during all of the market session. While Buffalo reported a liberal number of Canadian cattle on account of tariff changes, they were as a rule of the stocker and feeder class and cut but a small figure in the beef class. Not much change in values of western rangers. While good to choice sold from $8.00 to $8.50, many did not carry enough flesh for killers and where quality was found feeders paid strong to higher prices. Butcher stock was uneven, but generally 10 to 15c higher, with some sales showing an advance of 25c.

Bulls, 10c higher. Calves unchanged. Stockers and feeders, 10c higher. We quote native beef steers: Choice to prime heavy beefs, $9.00 to $9.50.
Good to prime yearlings, $8.75 to $9.50.
Common to fair yearlings, $7.75 to $8.65.
Good to choice corn fed, $8.65 to $8.95.
Medium to good steers, $8.20 to $8.60.
Plain to medium warmed-up, $7.90 to $8.20.
Common to plain steers, $7.65 to $7.90.

Inferior to rough grass steers, $7.00 to $7.60.
Fat cows, $4.80 to $7.50.
Heifers, $5.50 to $8.50.
With fancy Angus at $9.40.
Bulls, $5.10 to $7.40.
Bulls, prime butchers, $3.25 to $4.75.
Canners and cutters, $3.25 to $4.75.
Common heavy calves to good vealers, $5.00 to $10.50.
Choice to prime vealers, $10.75 to $11.50.
Inferior stockers to good mixed feeders, $5.50 to $7.25. Selected 800 to 1050 pounds, $7.40 to $7.65.
Prime feeders in strong flesh, 1000 to 1250 pounds, $7.75 to $8.00.
Hogs generally 10c lower, with an early top of $8.90; day's average, $8.36 and with one of two exceptions lowest for three weeks. Good heavy packers, 8c.
Mixed packing $7.90 to $8.30.
Mediums and butchers, $8.35 to $8.60.
Heavy packing, $7.85 to $8.15.
Rough heavy throwouts, $7.25 to $7.80.
Light weights, $8.10 to $8.65.
Select packing and shipping, $8.20 to $8.90.
Pigs and rough, $1.00 to $8.70.
Lamb trade irregular. Natives, slow to 15c lower. Some range 5c higher, but bulk steady to weaker. Matured sheep in short supply and 10 to 15c higher.
Best native lambs, $7.30.
Prime Idaho lambs, $7.45.
Montana wethers up to $5.25.
Western lambs, $6.60 to $7.45.
Montana feeding lambs, $6.60 to $6.75.
Goats, $3.50 to $4.15.
Native yearlings, $5.00 to $5.50.
Native lambs, $5.00 to $7.30.
Native ewes, $3.25 to $4.75.

FRESHMEN WIN
FROM SOPHOMORESANNEX FOOTBALL CONTEST BY
SCORE OF 7 TO 6.

Game Between Two Illinois College Classes Supremacy Old Time Color Rush—Regular Eleven Plays Lincoln Friday and Second Team Goes To Carrollton Saturday.

An exciting game of football was witnessed on the Illinois College diamond Tuesday afternoon, between representatives of the Freshmen and Sophomore classes, ending in score of 7 to 6 in favor of the Freshmen. Heretofore the strength and superiority of these two respective classes has been demonstrated in a color rush, but a few days ago it was agreed that the football game should supplant the old time rush, and it was so ordered. A half holiday was granted the students in order that the sidelines might be full of rooters. Considerable of the strength of the Freshmen team lay in their backfield, while the Sophomores appeared to have a stronger line.

The sophomores executed a number of successful forward passes in the third quarter, when McMillan was sent over the line for a touch down. Stewart Russell failed to kick goal. The Freshmen made their score in the last quarter, by the use of end runs and line plunges. Malsbury carrying the ball over for a touchdown. There was anxious moments when Alexander began preparing his toe for the kick and when it came the ball glided between the parallel bars, annexing the warmly contested game for the Freshmen.

The following was the lineup: Freshmen—Kirkland (Capt.), and Alexander, quarter back; Reagle, left half; Malsbury, right half; Crain, full back; Apple, left end; Whisler and Alexander, right end; Thacker, left tackle; Wemple and Clifton, right tackle; J. DeLess, left guard; Brown, right guard; Butcher, center. Sophomores—Schaffer (Capt.), quarter back; Spray, left half; Justus, right half; Stewart Russell, full back; McMillan, left end; Mangner, right end; Daniels, left tackle; Bulard, right tackle; Kimmel, left guard; Cohn, right guard; Berry, center.

Officials—Referee, Frisbee; Umpire, Fred Stewart; Time-keeper, Spruit. Millikin vs. Illinois. On November 8th football enthusiasts will witness a great game between Illinois and Millikin on Illinois field. Acker and Catlin of Springfield, high, playing this year with Millikin and Frisbee and Wilson of the Springfield high are on the I. C. team. There is a big rivalry among these four men and local dopists are figuring out a victory for Illinois. As a current raiser Carrollton High will play I. C.'s second team.

On Saturday the second team will journey to Carrollton for a game with the high school of that place. On Friday Coach Harmon will take his team to Lincoln to play Lincoln college.

REGULATIONS FOR ILLINOIS FRESHMEN. The following rules have been posted in various conspicuous places about college premises.

1. Freshmen Head! (Frigid) Noddy. 2. Beware! Stop. Look. Listen. 3. No legged, beef-brained, buck-toothed, beetle-eyed, bone-headed, bloated, bungy, brow-beaters from the brush you cringe and cackle continually. Cut it!

Rules and regulations: 1. A three inch green band must be worn on the left arm above the elbow. 2. To the faculty, let each fuzzy toe-knot be bared. 3. Leave off all flashy socks and ties ditch all high school pins and badges. 4. Stiff ties strictly prohibited. 5. In navigation, make way for your immortal superiors. 6. Be not seen loitering or stroll without procrastination, heed the rules. Little red radishes, home grown celery, green onions. Roberts Bros.

HOLIDAY AT SCHOOL FOR DEAF. In order to permit teachers and employees to attend the Illinois state fair, a holiday has been granted at the State School for the Deaf today.

"WHO SHALL HAVE YOUR SOUL?"

Dr. Rees Asks of Those Who Deny Holy Spirit—Speaks on Topic, "Sold Out"—Announcements for Week.

REVIVAL SUBJECTS.

Today. 2:30 to 4:30. Two hours of prayer. 7:00 p. m. "The Unanswered Question."

Thursday. 3:30 p. m. Service for women only, young women especially invited; "The Black Cross or Danger Signal."

Friday. 3:30 p. m. Service for women only; "Startling Revelations in Jacksonville." 7:00 p. m. "God's Command for Two Worlds."

"Sold Out," the sermon at the tent Tuesday evening, was a strange arraignment of the man who sells his soul for things temporal, who inclines his ear to those "lies of Satan" which lead him to a sense of false security, and causes him to deny the promptings of the Holy Spirit. "Who shall have your soul?" asked the evangelist. "At the judgment bar of heaven there will be present both the Prince of Devils and the Lord Jesus Christ." Although each sermon of the entire series has been to the point and full of thought, "Sold Out" seemed especially appropriate for one of the closing nights of the revival.

The Rev. G. W. Flagg of Centenary church opened the service with prayer and Dr. W. L. Dorgan of the Baptist church read the scripture. Especially noteworthy was the program of music, both the work of the choir and the special numbers. Alexander Campbell, J. L. Proffitt, J. Philip Read and Thomas Rapp formed a quartet, who sang in excellent voice. "Where Will You Spend Eternity?" Miss Bess Weiler of Montour Falls, N. Y., a singer of rare ability, gave a solo by Hammond. "The Master Is Calling for Thee."

"Thou Hast Sold Thyself." Dr. Rees took for his theme "Sold Out," his text being 1 Kings 21:22. "Thou Hast Sold Thyself." He said in part:

"The more some people have, the more avaricious they become. That was true of King Ahab, for with his palatial residence in Samaria, and his palace in Jezreel, he was exceedingly unhappy in his failure to get possession of a vineyard near one of his residences. As a result of a plot planned by Jezebel, his wife, the owner of the vineyard, was dragged out of the city and stoned to death, and when he was taking possession of the vineyard, Elijah appeared unto him to hear Ahab exclaim, 'Oh, my enemy, hast thou found me?' Elijah answered: 'I have found thee because thou hast sold thyself to work iniquity in the sight of the Lord.' Said what? His reputation? He has none to sell."

"For what may one sell his soul? Do you answer Business? Is it wise to give one's time, strength and solicitude for those things which are only temporal? You may say 'It is pleasure.' There surely is pleasure in the world, but there is more pleasure in serving Jesus Christ one day than you can get out of the questionable amusements for 365 days. There is more satisfaction leading one soul to Christ than you can get out of the pleasures of the world for a whole life time."

"Do I hear some one say, 'If it were not for hypocrites in the church I would be a Christian.' That is surely a very small price for which to sell any immortal soul! For there are not only hypocrites in the church but among all organizations, and yet we do not hesitate to join them. Still others declare they are not Christians because of a prejudice against revivals. When asked 'Why' you answer because of so much excitement. There surely is no excitement in these services. The persons who have decided to become Christians have done it deliberately and quietly. You add 'But so many people backslide who come out in revivals.' Not many people backslide who come out in a quiet, straightforward gospel service, such as is being conducted in your town, but if some do is that sufficient reason why you should not accept Christ?"

"Others declare the reason for your non surrender is, you do not believe, and then mention some of the non-essentials, when the requirement is, that you should believe on the Lord Jesus Christ. Another may answer, 'I haven't enough feeling.' It's not a question of feeling, but of principle. Feeling does not prompt us to act in other things, why should we expect feeling to be the motive in so great an undertaking. Accept Jesus Christ and be faithful to Him from principle. It's the right thing to do. Take all these excuses I have mentioned, and label them 'Satan's lies' for no man has been able to frame an excuse to stand at the judgment. Satan and Jesus Christ are both here. One is holding on with a mighty grip, and the other is pleading for a surrender. Life and the great question to decide is 'Who shall have your soul?' May the dear Lord give you the courage of Lady Ann Askin, who said one night in London 'Jesus shall have my soul.'"

"Years of Experience Have Proven to Me That the MAJESTIC Range IS the Best"

"Strange, that for years, I couldn't see that trying to get good work from an old, worn-out range, merely to save the price of a new one, was not true economy. My Great Majestic has more than earned its cost in the saving of fuel alone, because the open seams and joints in my old, worn-out range where the bolts were loose and the putty had crumbled away, made me burn twice as much fuel as necessary. "Talk about luck in baking—"luck" is nothing but good oven and my Majestic oven is simply perfect. I can depend on it absolutely every day. I believe father and the children are happier and I know we have better meals at less expense with our Majestic."

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES ARE HELD FOR GEORGE HOCKING, TUESDAY

Funeral at Baptist Church Is Largely Attended—Electrical Machinery Is Stopped for Fifteen Minutes.

As a tribute to the memory of George Hocking, late electrical superintendent for the Jacksonville Railway & Light company, who was electrocuted at the company's plant Sunday morning, all electrical machinery and street cars of the company were stopped for fifteen minutes at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the hour of the funeral at the Baptist church.

The service at the Baptist church was attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends, members of the Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and employees of the company attending in a body. The services were conducted in a most impressive manner by Rev. W. L. Dorgan. Rev. Mr. Dorgan read passages from the scriptures especially fitting for the sad occasion, giving words of comfort for heavy hearts and breathing a sweet hopefulness of that life which is to come. The minister read also two poems which emphasized in a beautiful way the eternal hope which dwells within the hearts of those whose faith is founded upon Christianity. In his very brief address he referred to man as a citizen of this world and the world beyond, pointing out in a very clear way how closely related are these two worlds and urging the necessity of being prepared for both. Mr. Hocking was a man who constantly recognized that in this world man's highest duty is to prepare for the life beyond, and had his ideals been different the day of his sudden going would have brought its heavy sadness without the rays of light and hope.

Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. Percy Jenkinson, Miss Mabel Mathews, W. A. Gore, and John L. Johnson, and the flowers, which were many and beautiful, were cared for by Mrs. J. K. C. Pearson, Mrs. Snierly, Mrs. Charles Glossop and Miss Withee.

Interment was made in Diamond Grove cemetery and the bearers were: Dennis Schram, Joseph Shreve, A. B. Williamson, Dr. R. C. Henley, Charles Glossop and Mortimer Van Houten.

Gibbons.
Funeral services for Mrs. Julia A. Gibbons were held Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at Centenary M. E. church in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends and were conducted in an impressive manner by Rev. F. A. McCarty. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. T. H. Rapp, Miss Edith Carlson, T. H. Rapp and W. W. Gilliam and the flowers were cared for by Mrs. George Tremblett, Miss Eva Gunn, Miss Shepard and Mrs. Emma Blair.

Interment was made in Diamond Grove cemetery and the bearers were: C. P. Ross, J. F. Kitter, J. W. Taylor, Henry Muehlhausen, T. H. Rapp and E. G. Saye.

MORTUARY

Donaldson.
Mrs. Nancy Donaldson, aged 72 years, died Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at her residence, 336 East Washington street. Mrs. Donaldson was a daughter of John D. and Susan Smith and was born in Tennessee, March 10, 1841. She was married to Richard H. Donaldson at Beards-town about forty years ago and is survived by her husband, two brothers, John D. and George Smith, and one sister, Mrs. Abriella McCune. Mrs. Donaldson was a member of Centenary M. E. church. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the late residence and interment will be made in Jacksonville cemetery.

Finch.
John Thomas Finch passed away at his home in Concord at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon after an illness of several months. Dropsy with complications was the cause of his death. A man of Christian character and sound integrity, he will be mourned by the large number of friends he formed during the forty-four years he has lived in this community. He was a member of the Christian Church and of the Masonic order.

Mr. Finch was born in Bourbon county, Ky., Sept. 1, 1841, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Finch. December 15, 1863 he was married to Miss Nancy Johnson. In March 1869 he came to the vicinity of Concord where he has since resided. He is survived by his wife and four children, J. E. Finch of Kansas City, J. W. Finch of Wrights, Ill., Mrs. M. Daley of East St. Louis and Mrs. S. E. Frazier of Rockbridge, Ill. One sister, Mrs. Cynthia Stone died in July of the present year while another, Mary Elizabeth Finch passed away in infancy. He has a half-brother living in his home state, Kentucky.

The funeral will be held from the Christian church at Concord Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of the Rev. J. W. Camp of Eureka.

FARWELL & RHINES' GLUTEN FLOUR

The pure food laws of the United States and of individual states demand that flour called "Gluten Flour" for the use of diabetics, and others, shall contain at least 5.6 per cent of nitrogen, this factor multiplied by the factor 6.25 (in use by Analysts) shows the amount of protein or gluten required to 35 per cent. Both the physician and his diabetic patient have a right to expect and insist that such a product be furnished. Substitution, carelessness or deception in this matter are dangerous.

Our "Gluten Flour" of superior stock, granulation and manufacture, is made especially for such cases, and contains about 40 per cent of gluten or protein. It is not excelled, in America or Europe, as diet in marked case of Diabetes Mellitus, Obesity, Rheumatism and other ills arising from excess of uric acid.

Saving Steps

The greatest boon that has been given to the housekeeper of today is the modern kitchen cabinet. And among kitchen cabinets, "Sellers' Kitchenneeds" stands head and shoulder above the rest.

It cuts the drudgery of kitchen work almost squarely in two. It brings everything necessary in cooking, together, all ready for use. It allows the housewife to spend hours of her time, that would otherwise be spent in "chasing after" things, in leisure or at some more pleasant occupation.

Because everything is right at hand, within easy reach, it enables you to do a large part of your work seated at the cabinet, entirely doing away with long hours of wearisome standing and walking about.

"Sellers' Kitchenneeds" contains dozens of conveniences that you cannot fully appreciate until you have used one. It contains more distinctive, sanitary and economical features than any other cabinet made. There is a reason for this. For almost a quarter of a century the "Sellers' Company" has made nothing but kitchen furniture, always studying and experimenting in their effort to in some way improve their product. As a result, Kitchenneeds offers you splendid advantages that no other kitchen cabinet can, and at prices that other concerns could not afford. Don't you think that you would appreciate these things—excellent appliances that not only save hundreds and hundreds of footsteps every day, but make your work lighter and keep things better as well? We know you would.
